

CHARITIES CREATED IN MEMORY OF A FALLEN GEORGIA SOLDIER

Run for the Fallen is a nonprofit that benefits charities that were created in memory of Fallen Soldiers from the State of Georgia. The charities listed below are educational grants, scholarships, and other programs that we benefit directly.

- Mike Stokely Memorial Foundation:

The Foundation was formed to allow those who wished to show their appreciation for Mike's sacrifice and support for his family through donating to help kids in need have books and kids to go to college.

- Evan Marshall Memorial Scholarship Fund:

The Evan Andrew Marshall Memorial Scholarship Fund is a non-profit corporation that provides educational scholarships for the children of American servicemen and women who are casualties of the war in Iraq, so that these children can meet their full potential and build a better life for themselves.

- The Matthew Freeman Project:

Pens & Paper for Peace is a not-for-profit charitable organization dedicated to collecting pens, paper, and other school supplies in cities and towns across the United States and sending them to U.S. military personnel for distribution in Afghanistan, Iraq, and other war-torn countries where children's education has been interrupted by armed conflict.

- Noah Harris Fund:

The mission of the fund is to promote Noah's commitment to service, people, and community so that his example will continue to inspire citizens of Georgia and America to stand up for the values which have made this country a beacon of hope, liberty, and justice. Donations have been made to Wounded Warriors and Fisher House, and individuals and families in crisis as need is identified as well as to help deserving young people who need help to "pursue a higher purpose." Annually, the biggest contributions go to IDWIC (I Do What I Can) scholarships and achievement awards which are provided to scholar athletes and leaders in the Gilmer County area.

- Ashley Henderson Huff Memorial Scholarship for Courage and Patriotism:

Ashley died a hero on September 19, 2006, when she was killed by a suicide car bomber while on patrol in her humvee. Ashley was only six weeks away from coming home to her family and her husband Brian, whom she had married just before her deployment. To celebrate Ashley's life and commemorate her sacrifice for her country, the Sigma Kappa Foundation has established this scholarship.

- Whitlock Foundation:

The Captain Nicholas Schade Whitlock Foundation is a 501(c)3 organization created by Nick's family and friends to honor his life, service, and memory by investing in the futures of individuals who display the values most important to Nick: leadership, integrity and self-less service, and giving back to communities that shaped and nurtured these values in Nick's own life.
